Improve your car's performance

A complete fuel system service

If your car is more than one year old, or has done over 30,000 kilometres, it may need an Ultra 2000 Fuel System Service. Over time, carbon, dirt, gum and varnish can build up within the critical components of your car's fuel system, resulting in poor engine performance. Left untreated, it can lead to costly engine repairs. The Ultra 2000 Fuel System Service is carried out by trained UltraTune professionals using a unique cleaning detergent that is guaranteed not to damage you vehicle's sophisticated components. Ask for the Ultra 2000 Fuel System Service with your next tune up.

The Ultra 2000 cleans all relevant areas of your engine (not just the injectors) and results in:

- overall new car performance
- improved acceleration
- improved fuel economy
- reduction of harmful exhaust emissions
- correction of driveability problems related to the build up of carbon and other contaminants.
